PARENTING CLASS AGREEMENT FORM

Heritage Oak School requires all staff members and parents, before entering the school, to complete our Parenting Class. The Parenting Class is required so as to provide the school community with a comprehensive, inductive approach to biblical parenting for the purpose of creating like-mindedness and unity within the school community. This helps establish a biblically balanced framework for parents, teachers, and administrators to communicate with one another safely and effectively and to guide the students through the process of becoming spiritually mature in Christ. More importantly, we desire that all parents are equipped with biblical tools for raising their children in the discipline and instruction of the Lord (Ephesians 6:4) to the glory of God.

The Parenting Class comes from a biblical and moral perspective, which emphasizes the role of the parent as the one God has designed and designated to be the primary shepherd of a child’s heart (Deuteronomy 6:5-9). Since the curriculum is based in the Holy Scriptures and expects parents to be obedient to the commandments and authoritative principles of the Bible, the school requires both parents to be Christian, that is, to have a professing relationship with Jesus Christ as their Lord and Savior and to believe the Bible as authoritative and trustworthy in all its assertions.

Taking the parenting class does not guarantee entrance of a family into the school. A portion of the family interview is devoted to discussing the parent’s implementation of and agreement with the parenting principles taught in the Bible to determine if a family and school will be a good fit for one another.

If a family has not taken the parenting class prior to their application to the school, they may pledge to the school board during the interview that they will take the class during the first year of enrollment. The family may then be accepted into the school on a probationary basis until completing the class. Failure to complete the course during the first year will be considered during re-enrollment for the subsequent school year. At that time, the school board will re-interview the parents concerning the biblical principles taught in the parenting class.
